Hank Bowman, author of new series on Boating

New Boating Column Starts This Week

Don't miss "Boating With Bowman," a weekly feature which begins this week.

This boating column, authored by Hank Wienand Bowman has been added to our pages as a reader service because of the tremendous increase of interest in on-the-water recreation.

The author of "Boating With Bowman" is considered one of the most popular and prolific boating writers in America. He brings to his readers a well founded background in the sport.

For more than three decades Bowman has literally "lived on the water." He started his boating career at the age of 12 when he designed and built an outboard hull. From that time on he has cruised, trailed, raced and tested outboard and inboard boats of all types. He adds to this pleasure boating activity more than four years of service as a PT boat skipper and commander of a division of PT boats in the Southwest Pacific and English Channel during World War II.

He is a member of the council of the American Power Boat Association and the author of 12 books on boating. He has written over 100 articles on various phases of boating for such magazines as True, Popular Boating, True Boating Magazine, Popular Science, Mechanics Illustrated, Science and Mechanics, Outboard, Rudder and Cavalier. He currently conducts the monthly boat test series for Popular Boating Magazine.

"Boating with Bowman" will cover every phase of the sport. It will point out the best features of boats, discuss equipment and offer valuable tips on boat care, maintenance and safety. Boating fan readers will be given a broad range of how-to-do-it material on seamanship and related marine subjects. New developments in the boating field and reports on new products will be blended with the first person anecdotal material.

To keep abreast of boating in various sections of the country, Hank Bowman and his wife travel an estimated 40,000 air miles each year. During these trips the husband-wife team gather material that will be used as a basis for this weekly column.

Bowman's enthusiasm for boating is backed by a water-minded family, two sons and two daughters who share their parents' enthusiasm. His sons, Shanon, age 11 and Craig 15, compete at outboard race regattas throughout the country.

Much of Bowman's material is based on his and his family's experience as, for example, a recent 2400-nautical mile cruise on the Intra-coastal Waterway and Atlantic Ocean.

As a family unit, the six also recently spent a month houseboating on the Kentucky Lake and the Tennessee River and have boated on waters from coast to coast and border to border.

Boating zealots, new and experienced, will find a wealth of practical material on their favorite sport in our new column.

Marv Heath, Candidate For Town Supervisor

Marvin Heath, 40, is an independent candidate for the office of County Supervisor.

Mr. Heath operates the M. W. Heath & Sons Co., Contractors, on Broadway in Antioch. He was born in Waukegan, and lived there until moving to Antioch in 1935. He has been in business in Antioch since 1954.

Marv and his wife, Bette, have three children, David, 20, Patricia, a sophomore at Antioch High School, and Kathy, in 7th grade at the Antioch Grade School.

Marv has been active in the life of the community since he moved here. He has been a member of the Rescue Squad since 1954. He was president of that organization, and hurt his back while on a Rescue Squad call, forcing his retirement from active participation. His fellow squad members insisted that he remain president when he tendered his resignation and selected a member to act for him during his disability.

He is a member of the Lions Club and has been a member of the Board of Directors of the swimming pool in Antioch for three years. He was a scoutmaster in the Boy Scouts for several years, and is now a merit badge counselor.

This is Marv's first campaign for public office. He has no political aspirations, he says. Should he be elected County Supervisor, he has no intention of using it as a stepping stone to further political activity.

His decision to run for County Supervisor, he says, was activated by the conviction that the people of Antioch township need active representation on the County Board. He feels that the County Supervisor, as the one link between the people and the county, should be available for information, and for help in cases of deserving need. He pointed out that his record with the Rescue Squad shows his willingness to respond to emergencies.

Asked what his action on the proposed zoning ordinance would be should he be elected, Marv answered that he would vote against it. He is opposed to a major overhaul of the zoning ordinances. He believes that the changes should be made slowly, as needed, a step at a time.

He favors a long-range plan for the undeveloped land in Lake County, taking into account the direction in which cities and towns are developing. He feels that the wholesale re-zoning of already developed areas, and land which has been recently re-zoned, works an undue hardship on the owners.

Marvin Heath

Marv believes that public officials, as well as private citizens, must take a stand on matters that affect them.

"You can't defeat anything, or gain anything, without taking a stand," he says. "You can't go along with the crowd, or say, 'This group, or that group, rules the board, and my vote won't matter.' I believe in something, I'll fight for it, and I believe I can at least change some men into thinking my way, if I'm right. You have to take a stand even to cross the street these days."

We asked Marv a question we intend to ask all candidates. "As an officeholder, if you are elected, will you be willing to give the newspapers, and the public, information as to actions taken by the County Board?" "Definitely, yes," he replied. "How else are people to be informed? In fact, I would welcome a chance to meet with the people periodically and inform them as to what is going on."

Town Budget Hearing Set for March 26th

The tentative budget and appropriation ordinance for the township of Antioch will be on display at the office of the Town Clerk, L. R. Van Patten, Jr., beginning March 2, 1963. A public hearing on the budget will be held at the Village Hall in Antioch at 3 p.m. on March 26. Final action on the budget and ap-

Series of Meetings Further Work of Planning Commission

Five counties in the Chicago metropolitan area, including Lake County, signed an agreement on Feb. 20 to work together in an "open space" program.

The counties will work together in planning and acquiring land for forest preserves, parks, etc.

Representatives of the five counties — Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake and Will — agreed to acquire land for recreation and other open space purposes, based on county plans which follow the recommendations of the metropolitan planning commission.

Taisto Aho, President of the Lake County Forest Preserve District, signed the agreement for Lake County.

The agreement had previously been approved by the county board.

The open space agreement makes the counties eligible for federal grants of 30 per cent of the cost of acquiring land for forest preserves. Only two other areas in the United States, according to W. L. Slayton, Commissioner of the U.S. Urban Renewal Administration, have put together similar agreements, but this one encompasses the largest urban area.

Kenosha-Lake County Joint Problems Committee Meets

Following the signing of the five-county agreement, a meeting of Lake and Kenosha county Planning Commission officials was held in Waukegan to discuss the co-ordination of the two counties planning programs.

Supervisor Delvin Mullins, John G. Morris, John Quay, Robert Morris and Elmer O'fermann represented Lake County at the joint meeting. Kenosha County delegates were Sophus Nelson, County Board chairman; Supervisor Jacob Kammerzell; Alvin Erdman, Soil Conservation Service; Paul Jaeger, Agricultural agent; and Leland Smith, horticultural agent.

Plans were discussed for continuing Lake County's Soil mapping and flood hazard mapping — on — into Kenosha County. Also the co-ordination of the Lake County Major Thoroughfare plan with Kenosha County highways and a co-ordinated approach to flood control by the two counties.

Open Space Planning to Be Discussed at Dinner Meeting

A dinner meeting of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission will be held at Hank's Supper Club on March 7 will be the kick-off for the Regional Planning Commission's Open Space Study. Harold M. Mayer, professor of Geography at the U. of Chicago will be the featured speaker.

The open-space study according to the Regional Planning commission, is designed to coordinate State, County and Municipal programs for open space preservation and acquisition.

Professor Mayer will talk on the open space crisis in Lake County. He is an advocate of the policy that preserves should not be "left-overs," but are as important as other land uses. He is currently a director of the Midwest Open Land Association, for whom he recently prepared a report on open space in the Chicago Metropolitan area including all of Lake County.

The "People's Party" slate includes Herman Holbek, incumbent, Arthur J. Meierdick, Jr., Jerome Kockow, and Ralph Gresens.

Bette Meyer, the lone woman candidate, is running on an independent ticket. Latest to file was the Taxpayer's slate, including Warren H. Heintz, 211 Maplewood Drive, John C. Seidelmann, 547 Maplewood Drive, and Robert R. Calloway, 1037 Spafford St., proprietor of the Town and Country Store for Men.

Grand Opening of Roller Rink Draws Large Crowd

The Grand Opening of the Roller Rink on Broadway in Antioch on Friday attracted about 225 devotees of the sport to the new establishment. Saturday night, the second Grand Opening night, saw about 175 skaters in the newly decorated hall.

JOHN McDONALD of Antioch won a pair of skates at the Grand Opening of the Antioch Roller Rink.

Extend Heart Fund Drive

Mr. Preston Reckers, Jr., treasurer of the Antioch Heart Fund, reports that collections for the Heart Fund Drive are in the process of being totaled and at the present writing have reached the total sum of $724.50.

The Heart Fund Drive has been extended one week to enable the volunteer workers to contact all the residents in their areas, since many were away on Heart Sunday.

Mrs. John Wagner, chairman of the Heart Fund Drive, in her final appeal for contributions urgently requests that those of you who haven't been contacted personally, please mail in your donations promptly. Checks may be made out to Antioch Heart Fund and mailed to the Antioch Heart Fund, c/o Preston Reckers, Jr., State Bank of Antioch.

She says, "EVERY dollar enables the Heart Association to carry forward its program of research, education and community service—EVERY Heart Fund dollar buys life and hope—EVERY dollar helps us to reach our goal of $1000 for Antioch—so please help us go over the top in the Heart Fund campaign."

Mayor Murrill Cunningham and Mrs. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Simonson and Police Chief Walter Scott were among the dignitaries who attended on the first night of the rink's operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beese and family were first of the skaters on the floor, and sixteen-month-old Jennifer Lynn Beese was the youngest skater present. John McDonald of 661 North Main received a pair of skates given by the rink as part of the opening festivities on Friday night, and Roy Bell, Rt. 1, Lakeview Drive, Lake Villa, won a skate case.

Nancy Larson, Rt. 2, Box 710, Lake Villa, was the happy recipient of the skates on Saturday night, and the skate case went to James Holmes, Rt. 1, Box 417, Antioch.

The new rink has a fountain and sells roller skates and accessories. They also have a skate repair service. James Ferrier is proprietor of the establishment.

Each person who attended during the two nights of the rink's opening received a small gift. Several floral pieces from well-wishers were on display.

The rink will be open on Friday and Saturday nights, and for matinees Saturday nights will be added to the schedule with the coming of spring.

JENNIFER LYNN BEESE, youngest skater at the new Antioch Roller Rink.

ROY BELL, Lake Villa, won the skate case at the Grand Opening of the Roller Rink in Antioch last Friday.

Countryside Hospital Assoc. Plans Fund-Raising Events

Standing committees to conduct affairs of the Countryside Hospital Association during 1963 have been announced by Eugene Walaszek, Fox Lake, President.

The proposed 56-bed hospital will be constructed on a centrally located, 15 acre site at the intersection of Grub Hill road and Grand Avenue to serve residents of the northwest Lake County, including those living in Grant, Avon, Antioch and Lake Villa townships. The closest hospital facilities to this area at the present time are located in extreme eastern Lake county and at McHenry.

Funds for the non-sectarian, non-profit hospital will be raised by public subscription during a concentrated drive expected to get under way in the near future. Land for the hospital, valued in excess of $30,000 has been donated by John Rule, Wildwood, with the only stipulation that construction be started by 1968.

Heading the association's executive committee is George E. Heuer, Antioch, retiring president. Other members are Warren O. Brown, Venetian Village; B. J. Hooper, Lake Villa, and Robert Ringa, Lake Villa.

Other committees include: Fund raising—Mrs. Edward M. Rundgren, Lake Villa, chairman; Roy Klaus, Fox Lake; Mrs. Rosemary Olson, Spring Grove, and Mrs. Mary Groot, Round Lake.

Building — Winthrop Lyman, Fox Lake, chairman;

Ernfred Olson, Spring Grove; Ringa, Hooper and Brown.

Publicity — Klaus, chairman, Lyman and Herbert Reimer, Petite Lake.

Two major fund raising affairs to be conducted in the near future have been authorized by the hospital's board of directors. First will be the third annual "Roy the Pig" roast at the Mineola Hotel, Fox Lake, Saturday, March 2, starting at 6 p.m. Donations are $500 per person for "all you can eat." Tickets may be obtained from any of the committee members mentioned above or at the Mineola Hotel.

The second event authorized is the annual rummage sale conducted by combined women's club is the area to be served by the hospital. It is scheduled for Lake Villa Grade school March 8-9.

The entire proceeds of each event will go to the hospital building fund. Any person or organization wishing to obtain full voting privileges of regular hospital association meetings may do so by contributing $10 per year. Contributions may be made directly to the treasurer, B. J. Hooper, Lake Villa, or to any bank in Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa townships.

Mr. Walaszek pointed out that any organization wishing to conduct a benefit for the hospital association must obtain written permission from the hospital board of directors or an officer of the association prior to the benefit.

A Straw in the Wind?

Is the dumping of the Forest Preserve Advisory Board a "straw in the wind" indicating the action which the County Board will take in regard to the proposed zoning ordinances?

The record of the Board's actions in recent years on unpopular proposals is not heartening to opponents of the proposed zoning.

A new courthouse was voted down by public referendum. The County Board is calmly proceeding with plans to build one.

The Forest Preserve Advisory Committee worked, without pay, for the creation and establishment of the Forest Preserve District. When they protested the introduction of politics into their group, they were unceremoniously dumped.

Only five supervisors voted against abolishing the board.

It's true, the dissension had progressed to the point where it appeared to be beyond healing. But the Board of Commissioners apparently acted in a high-handed manner, throughout, secure in the knowledge that they held the whip hand. And they must have been reasonably secure in the knowledge that an overwhelming majority of the Board would back them up in asserting their power.

The power of the County Board, is, indeed, great. Perhaps it's too great.

The voice of their constituents appears to mean little to many of the supervisors. They apparently are relying on the theory that the memory of voters is short.

The Board has given no indication that it intended to relinquish its expensive "baby"; no matter how strongly the people of Lake County oppose it. There is vague talk of revising it. There would be little left of the proposed book of ordinances or the proposed map if it were revised sufficiently to remove to basic objection of most people—that it is arbitrary and an invasion of personal rights.

The Board unceremoniously scrapped the Advisory Board when a difference of opinion developed. Do they plan to use the same tactics with the people of Lake County each time they disagree with the plans of the Board?

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Many wise and experienced hosts and hostesses make it a point to ban discussions of politics and religion during gatherings in their homes or pubs and now a new subject is being added to this list of taboos—the new Lake County Zoning Ordinance.

You can get an argument that not only is the proposed ordinance filled with pitfalls, traps, and dangers, but that the whole concept of zoning is contrary to "American way of life."

Actually a discussion on zoning can lead to some interesting philosophical dissertations and can lead down some fascinating conversational by-paths.

Such a discussion was held in the coffee shop at the courthouse the other morning with much of the talk centering on the complaints of some school districts that the proposed ordinance short-changes them on industrial zoning which precludes the possibility of attracting industry to ease the school tax burden on home owners.

Out of this verbal soccer game a tentative suggestion that perhaps a county school district should be set up so that one general levy could be made for school purposes with all areas of the county sharing in the taxes collected.

Thus the children in an industry-poor and low valuation area would have the same educational advantages as the youngsters from those areas generously endowed with industry and business.

Naturally the subject laid on the table for a few minutes while the panel eyed it with something akin to horror, but gradually it was discreetly nudged here and there to see if it would attack.

There were mutterings of "home rule", creeping socialism, big government, and burgeoning bureaucracy, but slowly the discussion swung around to careful approval of ultimate consideration.

Could this be done? It's unlikely. But there are certainly enough advantages to warrant a careful, objective study of the proposal.

In all the chortling over the successful elimination of the advisory committee of the Lake County Forest Preserve District the answers to two questions posed by Waukegan Assistant Supervisor John Balen have yet to be offered.

Balen, who waged an unsuccessful fight to stay the axe poised over the heads of the committee, asked Avon Township's Mel Mullins for the reasons behind the ouster movement.

The reply was vague and to this observer unsatisfactory, the principal indictment appearing to be the refusal of the advisory committee, or at least that segment headed by Ethel Untermyer, to meet with the policy committee which was already dedicated to emasculation of the advisory body.

Now the commissioners are suggesting formation of a new advisory committee. No doubt one of the prerequisites will be a declaration of rubber stamp intent.

We anticipate no great lines of applicants for a position on this new advisory board.

The second question left unanswered concerned a $14,000 item for "administrative assistance" (sic) in the Forest Preserve District Budget.

Since provision was al-

Your Congressman Reports...

By Cong. Robert McClory

If you are wondering what the Congress will do about the record-breaking peace-time spending of almost 100 billion dollars proposed by the President for this year, this is to alert you that little—if anything—will be done UNLESS prompt Congressional action and substantial public reaction develop. In the Congress, there appears to be neither a will nor a way to effectively reduce the huge appropriation measures upon which hearings already have begun.

It is estimated that more than 2,000 persons prepared the material for the budget which the President presented to Congress a few weeks ago. A total of 450 employees of the Executive Department compiled and arranged the figures which are the "meat" of the twelve-pound, 1195 pages of complex material handed to each Member of Congress under the title, "The Budget of the United States of America."

On the day following the President's budgetary message, there were speeches on the floor of the House of Representatives criticizing the extravagant spending program. These included a comparison presented by the House's most influential personage on this particular subject—Clarence Cannon (D) of Missouri, the 83-year-old chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Several of those speaking called attention to the Congress' responsibility to revise or rewrite the budget.

In his maiden speech, this writer called on the Congress to specify limits of federal spending and, then, to direct the President to determine the manner in which the total appropriations might be best distributed.

In subsequent research, this Member has discovered that the Reorganization Act of 1946 provided for the establishment of a Joint Legislative Budget Committee composed of approximately 100 House and Senate members charged with reviewing the Presidential budget and also with recommending revisions, reductions, maximum spending limits and other significant authority for hindering raids on the public till. In 1947, acting under this authority, the Committee recommended a reduction of total federal budget was a more than 6 billion dollars in spending, at a time when the mere 38 billion dollars as contrasted with today's 98.5 billion dollar figure. But the recommendation was not followed. The 100-man joint committee was criticized as unwieldy, and the joint committee's staff was completely inadequate to do a large scale job of budget paring. Too, there was a question of personal and committee prestige which discouraged the type of Congressional action contemplated by the Reorganization Act. The Joint Committee has ceased to function since 1954.

Many members of Congress seem to feel that it would be "nice" to cut federal spending but acknowledge that there appears to be no existing way to accomplish it. The "grandstand" performances of individual members of the House and Senate with respect to relatively small items, such as Congressional junkies or an aquarium for the City of Washington, obscure areas of huge government expenditures. The billions for agriculture, foreign aid, public works and flights to the moon are among the big spending programs which escape the close scrutiny and review which the Congress should undertake.

Pending in the present Congress are identical bills, sponsored by Senator McClellan of Arkansas and Congressman Ben Jensen of Iowa, to create a Joint Committee on the Budget, smaller in number and presumably more operable than its predecessor. Indeed, at the last session, a similar measure was passed in the Senate but was never called for a House vote.

Your Congressman has also introduced a bill calling for creation of a Joint Committee on the Budget. The joint committee, if created, would consist of 36 members and would have the widest possible authority for substantial action in reducing federal spending. This measure could provide "the way" by which federal appropriations could be reduced. There would remain then only "the will" to cut federal spending which must emanate from the people and the Congress.

There is a substantial reason to fear that this Administration's economic policies for record peace time spending and a planned long-range deficit are leading to national bankruptcy. Certainly it should be obvious to all that a bankrupt nation would be easy prey for the Communist hordes of Russia and China. The survival of our nation depends not alone on the strength of our industrial and economic power. If the public will support an action program by the Congress, both the way and the will can be found for this nation to live within its means—and we will reach an end to ever-mounting debts and deficits.

George Stancliff of Vernon, chairman of the district's finance committee, offered no satisfactory answer nor did the declaration that the appropriation is permissive only and does not mean the money has been spent offer any solace to Balen or those who waited with him for an answer.

The feeling grows stronger that the outcome of the balancing on the advisory committee and the budget, might have been different after April 2 when several new county board members are apt to make an appearance.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

The broad struggle for a fuller prosperity for our state received another solid note of success and encouragement recently when a report showed Illinois increased its share of federal procurement for experimental, developmental, test and research work by 17 per cent in fiscal 1962 over the previous year.

The figures, contained in a report from the U. S. Department of Defense, showed such procurement in 1962 in Illinois totaled $20,922,000 compared with $25,576,000 in fiscal 1961. When compared with the 1960 figure, last year's total represented an increase of 41 per cent.

The increase in these contracts is particularly important because such work often leads to new product development. Illinois institutions sharing in the 1962 awards were the Armour Research Foundation, University of Illinois, University of Chicago, Northwestern University, and the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Last month, I noted in my speech to the General Assembly that total prime procurement contracts awarded to Illinois manufacturers during the second quarter of 1962 showed an increase of 24% over the same period of 1961. The total was $212 million as compared with $171 million.

All of these figures are significant because they show that for the first time we are beginning to reverse the downward trend in federal procurement activity that had been starkly visible for years.

At the end of World War II, Illinois and the Midwest received 35 per cent of all such procurement. The figure was about 25 per cent in 1952 and at last count the percentage was about 10 per cent.

This administration from the outset included federal procurement in its total effort to inject new vitality into the economy of our state. We have championed the struggle of the Midwest to share more fully in this federal activity. Members of my staff and I have gone to Washington to secure more active consideration of, and participation by, Illinois in the nation's space and science programs.

Such federal procurement is but a part of the total picture of what must be done to rejuvenate our economy. One of my recommendations to the legislature calls for a Department of Commerce to concentrate our work. Part of that plan calls for an office in Washington so Illinois always can be ready to present its case, and to make our effort in this area a constant one.

Illinois Tax Facts

Under the provisions of Senate Bill 130, sponsored by Senators Alan Dixon and Paul Simon, counties having a population of 10,000 and over shall cause an audit of all of the funds and accounts of the county to be made annually by an accountant or accountants chosen by the county board. This legislation, supported by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, is modeled along the lines of the Municipal Auditing Law, enacted by the Illinois General Assembly in 1951.

The annual audit of the finances of the county shall commence as soon as possible after the close of each fiscal year, and shall be completed and the audit report filed with the Auditor of Public Accounts by the county clerk within six months after the close of such fiscal year, unless an extension of time is asked for by the county and is granted by the Auditor of Public Accounts. When the accountant or accountants have completed the audit, a full report shall be submitted to the county board. The county board shall file one copy of each report with the Auditor of Public Accounts and one copy shall be filed with the county clerk of the county so audited.

The audit report shall contain statements that are in conformity with generally accepted public accounting principles, and shall set forth the financial position and the results of financial operations of each fund, account and office of the county government. The audit report shall also include the professional opinion of the accountant with respect to the financial status and operations. All such audit reports and financial statements are public records under the provisions of the bill, and shall be open to public inspection. The Auditor of Public Accounts shall compile and publish in pamphlet form, annually, a statewide summary of the financial status of the several counties as indicated by the audit reports.

This published summary will provide every interested citizen with an opportunity to compare the expenses and revenue sources of his own county with what is being done in comparable counties elsewhere in Illinois.

I know a heap of men who ask a blessing on their vittles who don't want nuthin' of the kind on their vote.

No matter what they say in meetin', I believe that about six men out of ev'ry nine wud rather becom' richer than more religius.

Status symbols change. For a while, a Cadillac and a mink coat were the outward symbols of prosperity. These pretentious accoutrements were more or less displaced by the small car, preferably coupled with a second car, cashmere, and an expensive hi-fi system. Swimming pools and winter vacations are now rapidly gaining ground on the list of Things You Must Do if You Are Somebody—or want to convince people that you are somebody.

There will be three vacancies on the board to be filled—the full terms of Richard Harland and Lee McKinney (presently being filled by Paul Zeien) and the unexpired term of Dr. Stanley Anderson.

Dinner Meeting Of Illini Club On March 1

URBANA — Lake County Illini Club of University of Illinois alumni will have a Founders Day dinner meeting March 1 in the Farm Bureau Bldg., Grayslake.

Dr. Joseph Begando, vice president, U. of I. at the Medical Center, Chicago, will be principal speaker.

The Lake County Club is joining with others throughout the state and nation in observing the university's 95th birthday. The U. of I., founded under provision of the Land Grant College Act, opened March 2, 1888, with 3 faculty members and 50 students in a second-hand building.

Since then it has grown to more than 11,000 faculty-staff members and 35,000 students on three campuses and in off-campus classes. Teaching, research and service functions of the university have repaid to citizens many times their investment.

Chairman of the meeting is Ray Nicholas, P. O. Box 267, Grayslake. Committee members are Walter Dalitsch, 718 Mountain Rd., Lake Bluff; Mrs. Helen Volk, Box 359, Farm Bureau, Grayslake; William Strahan, 398 First Street, Antioch; and Judge Bernard M. Decker, Courthouse, Waukegan.

Dr. Begando assumed his present position in 1961. He was assistant to the president from 1958-61 and before that was associate professor of pharmacy administration and assistant to the dean of the College of Pharmacy. Formerly he taught at Kansas State University.

In homes with Flameless Electric Heat you almost have to hunt for dust

When you move into an electrically heated home you can practically forget about dirt. Electric heat is as clean as the electric light you read by.

There's no flame or fuel to make dirt, soot, or grime. And electric heat is such gentle heat it doesn't even stir up dust. In fact, in an electrically heated home you often have to look for dust.

EVERYTHING STAYS CLEAN LONGER

Your curtains and draperies stay fresh and nice for so long you'll have a time remembering when you put them up. Upholstery stays lots nicer, too. Electric heat is so clean you spend far less time housekeeping. That leaves you more time for activities you enjoy.

Living in an electrically heated home has other advantages, too, such as room-by-room heat control and fresher feeling heat that uses up none of the moisture or oxygen in the air. Even your skin feels more comfortable.

ELECTRIC HEATING NOW COSTS LESS THAN EVER

The recent rate reduction—on Electric Heating—applies to the three basic systems illustrated below. So, if you're looking for a new home . . . plan to build one . . . or want to modernize the heating in the home you own, call your nearest Public Service Company office for complete facts on the Electric Heating system that's best for you.

3 BASIC TYPES OF FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEATING TO SOLVE EVERY HEATING PROBLEM

Central Electric Heating—new kind of furnace for new or older homes. Works with your present duct system. Circulates gentle electrically heated air. Air conditioning may be added at any time.

Electric Heat Pump—gives you perfect year-round climate automatically. Amazing unit switches to heating or air conditioning by itself. Maintains ideal temperature and humidity with one setting.

Antioch 82, Wauconda 79, Kubicki 43

Cagers "Come Through" For Parent's Night

Bob Kubicki blistered the nets for 43 points Friday night as the Antioch Sequoits rallied in the 4th quarter to edge Wauconda 82 to 79. Closing out their home season, the game was also marked by a ceremony honoring the parents of varsity team members.

The victory moved the Sequoits into a tie for 3rd place in the conference and gave Kubicki the school record for the greatest number of points scored in a single game. The old record was 42 points scored by Mike Haviland in a game against Glenbrook during a holiday tournament.

Antioch jumped off to a 25 to 19 lead in the first period but Mike Freund began hitting with deadly accuracy from long range and by halftime the Bulldogs had pulled in front 49 to 45.

Wauconda continued to pull out in front in the 3rd quarter and at one point led by 16 points before the Sequoits managed to get rolling again. Antioch pulled to within 10 points before the buzzer sounded the beginning of the final stanza. The score board read 68 to 58.

The Sequoits put on a zone press in the fourth quarter and whittled Wauconda's lead to 5 points with a little over 4 minutes left. A steal by Doug Lang and two free throws by Jimmy Brownlee made the score 75 to 74 with 2:22 left.

Mike Freund countered for the Bulldogs with 25 ft. jump shot making it 77-74 when a tip in by Lang and two free throws by Kubicki put Antioch back in the lead 78 to 77, with 1:26 left in the game.

With just a minute and 5 seconds to go Freund put in a long jumper to put Wauconda back in the lead. Two free throws by Kubicki made it 80 to 79. A steal by Lang gave the Sequoits control of the ball and the Antioch quint went into ball control to run out the clock. Two free throws by Lang in the closing seconds accounted for the final margin.

Kubicki, in addition to his 43 point total hit 19 of 22 from the free throw line, getting 8 for 8 in the fourth quarter. Lang followed in the scoring for the Sequoits with 20 points. Lang also led in rebounding for Antioch with 11.

Good performances by John Lear and Jeff Gates were instrumental in the Antioch victory. Lear (5'5) collected 5 rebounds and scored 6 points. Gates was lauded for his fine defensive work in holding Freund to one tip in basket while he was guarding him in the third period.

Freund was high for the losers with 38 points, 24 of them coming in the first half. He was followed by Don Miller with 15 and Metzger with 12.

Win Fishing Award As Good Sport

12. Metzger was high for Wauconda in the rebounding department with 8. Shooting percentages for the two squads were very close with Wauconda hitting at a 51% clip and Antioch at 48%. The game was decided

300 Game, 750 Series Lead Local Pin Contest

"Tournament fever," that affliction that grips all bowlers at this time of year and sweeps an occasional bowler to heights of scoring perfection, is raging unabated at the Antioch Bowl.

The past weekend produced some of the highest scores ever seen in a tournament, to the profit of the bowler and the delight and excitement of the spectators. Herman Simonis, Chicago bowler, rolled a perfect game to take the lead in the big singles tourney. Simonis blasted the pins with 12 straight strikes on alleys 7 and 8, to put with a 223 game and a 215. With a 12-pin handicap, he posted a 750 total for a high score to date in the tournament.

Dick Vanderwall, a 160-average bowler with the Monday night league at the Bowl, moved into second place Sunday with a 720 total. F. Myslinski, with 710 and Leon Woodman with 707 are some of the other high scorers.

John Kmetz missed a 300 game on alleys 5 and 6 when a 10-pin stayed up on a good hit in the first frame. He

PARENTS OF THE PLAYERS on the Sequoits' basketball team were honored at the game last Friday. A portion of the stands were reserved for the parents, mothers received corsages and the parents were introduced to the audience. In this photo of the crowd, mothers can be seen wearing their corsages.

When it comes to shopping for the actual boat, it's a good idea for you to leave choice of color entirely up to her. This will put you on firm ground later if she looks a little startled at the final figures on the 19-footer complete with the accessory gear you've decided is necessary. To clinch this angle you might include a few expensive extra items which

BOATING WITH BOWMAN

Two Skippers on Every Boat

By Hank Bowman
Through the courtesy of SEQUOIT HARBOR

A psychiatrist of my acquaintance made an observation that he attributed much of the recent upsurge in popularity of pleasure boating to boat purchases by former Navy enlisted men and junior officers. His theory is that ex-members of Uncle Sam's forces afloat had been introduced to marine life, liked it, but harbored a resentment to taking orders. Boat ownership gives them commands of their own.

This may be psychological bilge water, but if the psychiatrist's theory is a valid one and the new commanders are family men, they will quickly learn that if their boating is to be pleasure boating there must be two skippers aboard.

Even more important, any would-be small craft owner will be able to sell boating to the "mate" more easily if he treats her as co-captain.

You may wonder why this dual skipper bit. Traditionally, women, who have never had experience afloat, consider boating a man's province. They may day dream of new houses, fur coats, washers and dryers, or even sports cars but they have to be conditioned to the idea that boating can be fun before wind and waves can replace mink or chinchilla in their mind's eye.

Budgets can be broken, but only willingly if the little ladies have gone hook, line and sinker for the prospect.

An initial word of caution to those husbands hoping to become boat owners. Don't plan to add just another set of chores to your wife's already not inconsiderable home housekeeping duties. Boating must be as relaxing for her as it is for you or the whole idea better be jettisoned.

A good beginning point is a boat show. Don't overdo tramping up and down the aisles. Just expose her to the overall color of the spectacle and lead her into the lounge of one of the major boat displays where she can sit comfortably and take in the enthusiasm of the other shoppers. Their excitement can be contagious. Let her go aboard one of the largest and lushest craft. Stress the price of this gilt-edged showboat, so that the boats more within your own financial limitation will sound like gifts by comparison. Then take her out for a quiet dinner and wait until she broaches the subject of boats. If it's favorable, the next phase in your sales program may be a return visit to the show, but let her think that the idea is hers or at least a joint proposal.

You might mention casually how much vacations have been costing you, then point out that boat payments stretched over a three-year period may be no more, possibly even less.

When it comes to shopping for the actual boat, it's a good idea for you to leave choice of color entirely up to her. If she's really sold on the project by now you might even back track a bit and suggest settling for the 17-footer rather than the 19' which you actually intend to buy. Be careful to point out a few of the limitations of the 19 in contrast to a 21'. This will put you on firm ground later if she looks a little startled at the final figures on the 19-footer complete with the accessory gear you've decided is necessary. To clinch this angle you might include a few expensive extra items which

The Antioch High School junior varsity basketball team closed out their season recently with a record of 4 wins and one loss. Coach Roger Andrews has released statistics for the team's five game performance.

The juniors lost their first game to the Grant preps, 55 to 57, and then proceeded to conquer their remaining four rivals. They beat Grayslake 46 to 44, Lake Forest 49 to 47, Warren 67 to 55 and Ela-Vernon 68 to 50.

The team scored a total of 285 points for their opponents' 253, averaging 57 points per game. The squad is made up of members of the varsity basketball squad who have played in less than two quarters in the preceding varsity game.

Ken Walker took the scoring laurels for the preps with 67 points and a 13 point game average. Norbert Wolter followed with 49 points.

Sequoits Lose As Refs Call Fifty Fouls

"We had their defense solved all right but we just couldn't get the ball through the hoop." That was coach Roger Andrews' comment after dropping a heartbreaker to Grayslake Saturday 67 to 60 on the winner's court.

The game was marred throughout by the official's whistle blowing as 50 violations were called.

The loss dropped Antioch into third place in the conference standings with 7 wins and 7 losses. Wauconda and Grayslake are tied for second behind league leading Lake Forest.

The Rams took an early lead and were in front 17-11 by the end of the first quarter. The Sequoits trailed 31 to 26 at halftime.

The Sequoits closed the gap to two points in the third period at 41-39 on baskets by Ed Matejka, John Lear and Bob Kubicki. That was as close as the Antioch quint could come.

Two rebound tip-ins by Caldwell put Grayslake out of danger and the Rams were leading 50 to 44 at the end of three quarters.

Antioch, in the fourth quarter, lost the services of Doug Lang, John Hallwas, Jim Brownlee and John Lear, all via the foul route. The Sequoits couldn't overcome the deficit and the Rams outpointed Antioch in the final stanza 17-16.

Grayslake took the edge on the boards, grabbing 37 rebounds to 30 for the Sequoits. Both squads hit 40% from the field.

Doug Lang took scoring honors for the Sequoits with 17 points on 6 baskets and 5 free throws. Bob Kubicki and Ed Matejka followed with 14 points. Kubicki had 8 out of 8 at the charity line to go with his Friday night total of 19 for 22.

Bob Caldwell was high for the winners with 23 points. High scoring Craig Alderton, hampered by an ankle injury, scored only 8 points.

Special Forum For Boaters At Boat Show

A call to all Illinois boaters to attend an open forum on what the boat owner may expect in legislation and waterways improvements in 1963 has been issued by the Illinois Boating Association. The forum will be held in conjunction with the opening of the Chicago National Boat Show at McCormick Place Saturday, March 2.

Topics of discussion by government officials and boating leaders will include: Boating issues before Congress and the state legislature, waterway improvements, harbor developments, state laws, taxes, and other subjects vital to the Illinois boat owner.

Among those participating in the program will be J. A. Smedley, Army Corps of Engineers, who will speak on the Corps' role in pleasure boating and the proposed 1964 budget of $27,521,000 for Illinois rivers, harbors and waterways improvements.

Frank S. (Dixie) Davis, boating administrator for the Illinois Conservation Department, will discuss the state's boat registration law and the part the conservation department plays in Illinois boating.

Fred Linton of the Outboard Boating Club of America legal staff will outline what may be expected in new Federal and state laws during current sessions of Congress and the state legislature.

Also on the panel will be Captain Carl H. Stober, United States Coast Guard, as well as park and city officials in

Lake have unimpressive records while Wauconda finished

Chicago.

Saturday, March 2, has been proclaimed "Illinois Day" at the show and it is anticipated that a large turnout of boaters will attend the forum. All boating groups and boat owners are welcome.

The Illinois Boating Association was recently founded by a group of dedicated and experienced boatmen whose aim is to bring all boating groups, clubs and boat owners into one state-wide association that can present a united front on matters pertaining to harbors, waterways, local, state and national boating legislation, and the promotion of safety.

14-7 and tied for second place in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Graylake on the other hand will have to get by Cary Grove tonight (Wednesday) in order to get a chance at Grant. Grant has been hampered by the flu bug their last few games but they have beaten the Rams once this year, 71-60 and if they are at full strength could come up with a surprise.

Should the Rams get by both Cary Grove and Grant they will have another tough game Friday, providing Wauconda doesn't meet with an upset.

"We don't have any preference," Andrews said. "I feel we can beat any one of them and the boys know they have to win that first game before we can get a chance at Libertyville and Larry Leon."
